The world has been shocked by the 7 October Hamas attacks and Israel's ongoing war on Gaza and violence in the occupied Palestinian territories. Dutch and European political responses to, and popular analyses of, these events, however, often ignore the historical and material context in which current developments are taking place. In this seminar series, a Collective of academics from various disciplines at Radboud University – including geography, philosophy, law, anthropology, political science, and cultural studies – invite a range of experts offer information, insights, and analytical tools, and provide an opportunity for questions to help make sense of unfolding events.

The series is open to all. Please arrive promptly and spread the word. All those attending are required to respect the rules of the collective, which means no antisemitism, Islamophobia, racism, sexism, homophobia, transphobia, or any form of intimidation, harassment, and violence. Please visit our website, situatingpalestine.nl for more details.
